I am pleased to inform you that The Chinese University of Hong Kong Orientation Day for Undergraduates Admission will be held on 22 October 2016 (Saturday). This year we will launch a priority enrollment scheme for students who are interested in nursing profession to register for the admission talk in advance.

Details of the admission talks are as follows:

Apart from the admission talks, visitors on that day can also take a tour at our Clinical Learning and Simulation Centre and meet with our students and alumni to learn more about our curriculum and the university life. Grateful if you could help to disseminate the information to your students.
